

Chapter 4

The Cycles of Saturn

IN A CYCLE CHART, the house occupied by the planet for which the chart is erected becomes unusually important as indicating the starting point from which the influence emanates which brings about the most important events which transpire during the life of the cycle. Thus in the Neptune Cycle, illustrated in chapter 1, page 15, Neptune is in the 11th house. This indicates that Congress becomes an influence through which the most important events signified by the cycle are brought to pass. That is, the things which Neptune rules are shown to be so closely associated with Congress that from December 28, 1863, until March 7, 1944, Congress will have a tendency to bring those things to pass which the chart as a whole indicates, and which specifically are timed and denoted by the progressed aspects of Neptune to the planets.

In the Uranus Cycle of 1844, illustrated in chapter 2, page 31, Uranus is in the 12th house. This indicates that, until the next cycle started in 1927, bondage and limitations would be the things which Uranus would operate through to bring about the most important events. Slavery of the negro was the earlier issue, and economic bondage was the later one. And Uranus being the planet of disruption, the influence of slavery and of economic exploitation brought sudden changes.

In the Uranus Cycle of 1928, illustrated in chapter 2, page 32, Uranus is in the 1st house. This indicates that, from February 4, 1928, until April 1969, the starting point from which Uranus will exert its most important influences will be the condition of the common man. The common man is so closely associated with Uranus things in this chart that he can not fail to be the instrument through which abrupt changes will be brought to pass. Wherever Uranus progresses by Transit through this chart and makes an aspect to some planet in it, he will continue to carry some of the first house influence, the influence of the common people, and the more important radical changes will be brought about by, and affect the interests of, the masses.

In the Saturn Cycle of 1922, illustrated in chapter 3, page 48, Saturn is in the 8th house. Death, Taxes, Debts, Pensions and Insurance, therefore, are so closely associated with Saturn that wherever he goes through the chart they will continually be bobbing up in connection with the most important events this planet brings to pass from March 2, 1922, until March 5, 1938.

Not all of the aspects he makes will bring things to pass related to the 8th house; but he carries enough of this influence with him that the most important events influenced by the things he rules will in some manner relate not merely to the house in which the aspected planet is located, but also will relate to those things which the 8th house rules.

Saturn is the planet of safety, economy and poverty; hence his most characteristic influence is to contract and depress. He is over cautious, and frequently lets golden opportunities pass him by through lack of courage to attempt.

He, as well as Jupiter, is a business planet, and has an influence over the business trend in a country; but where Jupiter tends to expansion, and when afflicted causes extravagance, Saturn tends to contraction, to over cautiousness, and to measures of protection.

Diseases in general are under his influence, as are sanitary and other measures taken to protect the public health. In fact, action of all kinds which is prompted by fear, and has for object protection, comes under his dominion. When afflicted he is responsible for various kinds of losses, including the loss of public health which occurs during an epidemic.

His nature is in direct opposition to that of Uranus in that he is the planet which is most conservative, and most persistently resists change of any kind. The things which were good enough for his father and grandfather are good enough for him. He fears the effect of anything which has not withstood the trials of time. In financial matters, his influence following the boom periods of Neptune or the extravagances of an afflicted Jupiter, leads to a time of depression. Jupiter and Saturn together are chiefly responsible for the rise and fall of markets. and the periods of business advance and the periods of business recession.

Saturn rules the land, the buildings on the land, the crops which grow from the soil, the mineral wealth under the ground, and basic utilities like steel, lumber and coal. He also has chief influence over the weather. The destruction of crops and buildings, therefore, through flood, storms, and when Mars plays a part even through fire, comes under his jurisdiction.

Hard work and those who perform it in general, and the miner and farmer in particular, are influenced by him. Hence measures to protect them, such as immigration laws which have for object the protection of those who work from an over abundance of laborers; and tariffs that are placed upon goods, not chiefly as a means of revenue, but to protect from the competition of cheap foreign labor, come under his rule. Some caution is here required in passing judgment on tariffs, however, as those which are designed chiefly as means of raising revenue come under the rule of Jupiter.

Furniture, fixtures of all kinds, and the crude materials from which other things are made, natural resources, and all movements toward conservation, are under Saturn's rule. And because he is so closely associated with the land, all acquisition of territory, bargaining for it, or its loss, relates to his influence. In his thought he is ultra-conservative, in his religion strictly orthodox, and in politics is represented by the miner and the farmer.

Calculating the Saturn Cycles

For the purpose of illustrating the method of calculating the time for which a Saturn Cycle chart should be erected, we will use the last two cycles of Saturn, January 23, 1909, and March 2, 1922. As we wish to know the influence of these Saturn Cycles on the affairs of the United States, the problem is to ascertain the times at Washington, D. C., when Saturn crossed from south declination to north declination.

The Nautical Almanac for 1909 gives the declination of Saturn each day at noon, Greenwich Mean Time, together with the variation per hour. The position on January 24 is given as plus 0 degrees, 1 minute, 0.8 seconds. The variation per hour is given as 5.21 seconds. That is, Saturn, moving 5.21 seconds per hour, on January 24 had already crossed into north declination 0 degrees, 1 minute, 0.8 seconds.

One hour equals 60 minutes. 0 degrees, 1 minute, 0.8 seconds equal 60.8 seconds. Then $5.21:60::60.8:x$? The answer is 700 minutes, which equal 11 hours, 40 minutes.

From January 24, noon, subtract 11 hours, 40 minutes, and it gives the Greenwich Time as January 24, 0:20 a.m. As Washington is 77 degrees west, subtract a further 5 hours, 8 minutes, and it gives the time for which the Saturn Cycle must be erected as January 23, 1909, 7:12 p.m. L.M.T. 77W. 38—56N. The chart erected for the time so found is No. 52 in the table in chapter 3, pages 46 & 47.

The Nautical Almanac for 1922 gives the declination of Saturn each day at noon, Greenwich Mean Time, together with the variation per hour. The position on March 2 is there given as plus 0 degrees, 0 minutes, 12.9 seconds. The variation per hour is given as 4.35 seconds. That is, Saturn, moving 4.35 seconds per hour, on March 2 had already crossed into north declination 0 degrees, 0 minutes, 12.9 seconds.

One hour equals 60 minutes. 0 degrees, 0 minutes, 12.9 seconds equal 12.9 seconds. Then $4.35:60::12.9:x$? The answer is 178 minutes, which equals 2 hours, 58 minutes.

From March 2, noon, subtract 2 hours, 58 minutes, and it gives the Greenwich Time as 9:02 a.m. As Washington is 77 degrees west, subtract a further 5 hours, 8 minutes, and it gives the time for which the Saturn Cycle must be erected as March 2, 1922, 3:54 a.m. L.M.T. 77W. 38—56N. The chart erected for the time so found is illustrated in chapter 3, page 48.

As an index of what may be expected to happen under the influence of aspects in a Saturn Cycle, we will follow two plans: First: commencing with the first Saturn Cycle since 1800, I will quote, with my own comments in parentheses, every event that is clearly Saturnine in nature that is of enough importance to be included in the Reference History of the World of Webster's New International Dictionary. Omitting none of these as far as available space warrants us following them, the progressed aspect in the Saturn Cycle then effective will be indicated. Second: I will list ALL the progressed aspects that have formed in the current Saturn Cycle, going as far as available space will permit, and indicate the event attracted by each of these aspects.

As the Saturn Cycles earlier than 1884 were calculated, not from the Nautical Almanac, but from the positions of Raphael's Ephemeris, these earlier cycles are approximate only, and too much dependence can not be placed on their house positions. The house positions of the Cycles since 1884 are precise.

The first Saturn Cycle of the Nineteenth Century commenced (Chart 45) April 4, 1820, approximately 9:16 p.m., Washington. The ruler of the cycle is in the 5th, house of speculation, and immediately there is an Act encouraging land (Saturn) speculation.

April 24, 1820, there is passed the Public Land Act which permits the purchase of tracts of 80 acres or more at a minimum price of $1.25 per acre, and at the same time abolishes the credit system.

The Cycles of Saturn

1821, under Saturn conjunction Sun r, co-ruler of the 9th (sea commerce), and later square Mars r ruler of the house of sea commerce, Russia lays claims to the North American Coast (Saturn) south to 51 degrees.

April 17, 1824, under Saturn sextile Mars r, Treaty with Russia; no Russian Settlements (Saturn) south of 54 degrees, 40 minutes, which becomes the recognized northern boundary of the Oregon Country.

April 30, 1824, under Saturn sextile Mars r, General Survey (of land) Act passed.

August 6, 1827, Saturn square Sun r, Treaty with Great Britain continues the joint occupation of Oregon (land).

May 19, 1828, under Saturn square Sun r, Tariff Act (Saturn p in house of tariff) of 1828, called the Tariff of Abominations. It is strongly protective (Saturn), and the South, especially South Carolina, declaring that the burden of it falls (Sun rules politics) on the slave States, threaten resistance.

May 28, 1830, under Saturn sesqui-square Uranus r, Jackson signs the Indian Removal Act, which embodies his policy for the general removal (Uranus ruling house of travel) of the Indians to reservations west of the Mississippi (so the whites can have their land).

March 2, 1833, under Saturn p in house of business, trine Venus r in house of opposition, Clays' Compromise Tariff Act, calling for a gradual reduction (Saturn) to a revenue basis in 1842. A Force Act is also passed to furnish means of controlling recalcitrant (7th house) States.

The next Saturn Cycle commenced (Chart 46) April 13, 1834, approximately 6:52 a.m., Washington. Saturn is in the 6th (harvest) trine to the Moon (common people), and trine to Neptune (schemes and promotions) on the cusp of the 10th, and opposition Mercury, ruler of the 2nd (banks and money). As the cycle came in the patenting of the horse reaper by C. H. McCormic made considerable change in the labor (Saturn) of harvesting (Saturn in 6th).

April 20, 1836, under Saturn opposition Venus r, ruler of 1st (people), and square Neptune r, Wisconsin Territory is set up out of Michigan Territory.

January 9, 1837, under Saturn sesqui-square Mercury r, Jackson's special message shows interest of United States in an Isthmian (Saturn p in house of foreign countries) Canal.

May 10, 1837, under Saturn opposition Jupiter r (finances), Panic (Saturn) of 1837 begins.

June 12, 1838, under Saturn inconjunct Sun r and opposition Asc. r (people), Iowa Territory is created out of that part of Wisconsin Territory west of the Mississippi.

August 9, 1842, under Saturn sesqui-square Asc. r (people of U. S.), Ashburton Treaty signed with Great Britain. It settles the northeastern boundary (Saturn) dispute, which threatens war, by a compromise line.

August 20, 1842, under Saturn in 8th (Tariffs) sesqui-square Asc. r, Tariff Act of 1842, a protective measure (Saturn) without any distribution of proceeds of public lands.

March 1, 1845, under Saturn in 10th (business) square to Jupiter r, Joint resolution of Congress for the annexation of Texas, less favorable to the United States than the abandoned treaty.

June 15, 1846, under Saturn semi-sextile Mercury r, Treaty is signed with Great Britain adjusting Oregon; the United States confirmed in the portion South of 49 degrees.

December 12, 1846, under Saturn conjunction Uranus r, in house of business, Treaty with New Granada (Colombia): freedom of transit on Isthmus of Panama given to United States; in return neutrality of Isthmus and Colombia's sovereignty (Saturn) over it are guaranteed by the United States.

January 24, 1848, under Saturn (mines) conjunction Mars r, Gold is discovered near Sutter's Mill in California. A great immigration (Saturn ruler of house of long journeys) by land and sea follows (the gold rush of 1849 unequalled for roistering and crime, characteristic of Mars), with pressure for quick organization of civil government.

February 2, 1848, under Saturn square Moon r, Treat of Guadalupe-Hidalgo is signed with Mexico. Rio Grande recognized as boundary (Saturn) and New Mexico and California ceded.

August 14, 1848, under Saturn semi-sextile Sun r, Oregon is organized as a territory, slavery being forbidden.

Then follows a short Cycle of Saturn (Chart 47) commencing May 19, 1849, approximately 6:52 a.m., Washington. Saturn is ruler of the 7th (foreign countries? and is with Mars (war planet) in the 10th (business). Under this influence eyes are turned toward Cuba as a possible acquisition in the future and filibustering expeditions are sent against her.

The next Cycle of Saturn (Chart 48) commenced February 12, 1850, approximately 3:52 a.m., Washington.

April 19, 1850, under Saturn p in house of short journeys, sextile Mercury r, co-ruler of house of long journeys, Clayton-Bulwer Treaty with Great Britain. Acquisition of California has made the transit across the Isthmus important to the United States; and the British show intention of fixing themselves there. Treaty is recognition of equal interest in any canal (Saturn in 3rd) or line of transit on the principle of guarantee of neutrality.

September 20, 1850, under Saturn sextile Venus r First act of Congress making land (Saturn) grants in aid of construction of railroads (Saturn in house of railroads).

1859, under Saturn trine Saturn r, First oil well is sunk on Oil Creek, Pa.; the beginning of the petroleum industry. Silver discovered in the Comstock lode (Saturn), Nevada.

February 28, 1861, under Saturn inconjunct Saturn r, Colorado Territory (Saturn) is created.

May 15, 1862, Saturn, after being retrograde from conjunction Jupiter r, in the 9th in Virgo, turns direct again bringing to pass the things which were started three months earlier while the aspect was perfect. As this conjunction is in Virgo, the sign of farming, the events relate to this industry, and while the conjunction is applying the second time these events transpire before the aspect closes to the common orb of influence May 15, Congress authorizes the Department of Agriculture (Saturn). May 20, Homestead (Saturn) Law is enacted. July 2, Morrill Agricultural College Act grants public lands to States for the support of colleges (Jupiter in the house of colleges) of agriculture (Saturn) and mechanical arts; origin of most of the State agricultural schools.

The next Cycle of Saturn (Chart 49) commenced January 16, 1863, approximately 6:52 a.m., Washington. Here we have Saturn, ruler of the Asc. (people) in the house of death in opposition to Neptune. Thus were the people in vast numbers in the house of death through the Civil War and the ravages of disease which accompanied it. Thus also were they depressed by the death of their President, Lincoln, who was assassinated when Saturn, April 14, 1865, was conjunction Jupiter r, ruler of house of secret enemies, and square Sun r (one high in political office).

March 3, 1863, under Saturn trine Venus r, ruler of the house of lands, Idaho Territory is created.

July 25, 1868, under Saturn inconjunct Mars r, Wyoming Territory (Saturn) is established.

September 24, 1869, under Saturn conjunction Moon r, sextile Mercury r, Black Friday in Wall Street, due to an attempt to corner (Mercury ruling house of speculation) gold, broken by action of the Federal treasury (Saturn ruling panics).

March 3, 1871, under Saturn trine Pluto r (in house of railroads), Texas Pacific Railway is incorporated by Congress and given a land (Saturn) grant, the last of the land grants.

October 8-10, 1871, under Saturn in the 12th square Saturn r, Great fire in Chicago; loss $200,000,000. Shown in Mars Cycle also, indicating the nature of the agent which brought the loss of property (Saturn).

November 9-10, 1872, under Saturn inconjunct Uranus r, Great fire in Boston; loss (Saturn) of $70,000,000.

September 18, 1873, under Saturn conjunction Sun r, square Jupiter r (financial planet), failure of Jay Cooke and Co. starts a great panic (Pan is one of the ancient names of Saturn); caused chiefly by over-building of railroads in the West.

March 3, 1877, under Saturn square Moon r (common people), Desert Land Act provides special conditions for patenting such land, subject to proper development and irrigation.

June 3, 1878, under Saturn conjunction Neptune r, Timber and Stone Land Act provides a further special means of securing public land. (Has been used by large corporations—Neptune—to secure vast holdings at little expense—Neptune in house of cash.)

Another Cycle of Saturn (Chart 50) commenced March 20, 1879, approximately 2:52 p.m., Washington. Again Saturn is in the 8th (house of death) this time conjunction with the Sun (persons high in political office). The significance of this position was verified by the assassination of two presidents of the United States. Garfield died September 19, 1881, as Saturn came close to the conjunction of the M.C. r, and McKinley died September 14, 1901, as Saturn came close to the trine of Neptune r; but the actual assassinations belong under the influence of, and are shown in, the Mars Cycles.

In addition to the 8th, the other important houses are the 9th, holding three planets, and indicating outstanding developments in the domain of commerce; the 7th, holding two planets, and indicating relations with foreign countries; and the 6th, because Mars, the planet of strife is there located and in sextile to Saturn, both Mars and Saturn at the same time being inconjunct Uranus, the planet of disruption, in the house of the people. As Mars also rules the 4th, house of lands and homes, in addition to strife where labor and farm products are concerned, the deadly influence of Saturn strikes hard in the destruction of these possessions.

November 17, 1880, under Saturn semi-square Moon r in house of foreigners, Chinese Exclusion (Saturn) Treaty (affecting labor) is signed with China, removing Hayes' objections to an exclusion act.

February 8, 1887, under Saturn semi-square Uranus r, in house of citizens, Indian Allotment Law is enacted; under stipulated conditions Indians may be given land in severalty and become citizens. February 9, 1889, under Saturn trine Mercury r, Department of Agriculture (Saturn) becomes an executive department and its secretary a cabinet officer.

1889, under Saturn trine Mercury r, in house of shipping, Bankruptcy (Saturn) of the French Panama Canal Company; of importance to the United States, where the concession is deemed contrary to the nation's policy and welfare, if not to the Monroe Doctrine. Interest in an American canal is stimulated; an American company organizes for work through the Nicaraguan isthmus (Saturn).

April 22, 1889, under Saturn sesqui-square Sun r, ruler of the people, Part of Indian Territory is opened, and a wild rush to settle ensues.

August 30, 1890, under Saturn opposition Moon r, in house of foreign Nations, Congress passes an act for the inspection of pork products intended for exportation (a protection); the outcome of controversies with foreign nations, especially Germany. President given power to retaliate on unjust discriminations (a protective measure) against American products. Increases and systematizes protection (Saturn); revenue is reduced (Saturn) by prohibitive duties and the placing of raw sugar (basic commodity) on the free list, a sugar bounty being given the domestic producer as an offset.

The next Cycle of Saturn (Chart 51) is a short one. It commenced April 29, 1908, 0:02 p.m., Washington.

Then follows the Cycle of Saturn (Chart 52) previously calculated in detail, commencing January 23, 1909, 7:12 p.m., Washington. This leads up to the current Saturn Cycle.

The Cycle of Saturn effective at the time this is written, as per detailed calculations given earlier in these pages, commenced March 2, 1922, 3:54 a.m., Washington. The chart is used as an illustration in chapter 3, page 48. One important influence of Saturn things during the period of this cycle—March 2, 1922, to March 5, 1938—as shown by three planets in the house of money, will be to make a scarcity of cash. Mercury, ruler of the 6th (labor) and co-ruler of 8th (pensions) in the 1st, will make employment insurance and old age pensions popular demands. Neptune in the 7th (foreign countries) will give dreams of receiving pay from foreign nations that will never be realized.

Saturn in this chart makes only two close aspects. An aspect from the planet for which the cycle is erected to another planet indicates a direct thought current relating the things the cycle planet rules to the department of life indicated by the house occupied by the aspected planet. Thus in this cycle. Saturn is in the house relating to death, taxes, insurance, pensions, and debts due; and it is in square to Pluto in the house of work. It has an influence, therefore, to make a scarcity of work, which in turn brings a demand on the part of labor for greater security (Saturn) in the future in the matter of employment. And as Saturn is also sextile Mars in the house of Congress; that legislative body will become aggressive (Mars) in making laws having the security of the aged (Saturn) and of those who toil (Mars inconjunct Pluto in 6th) as their object.

Commencing with the beginning of this Saturn Cycle I will now start to list ALL the progressed aspects that have occurred in it, and go as far as available space will permit. In connection with each aspect I will quote an event of importance enough to be included in the WORLD ALMANAC, with my own comments in parentheses. These events, all showing clearly the influence of Saturn, will afford opportunity to study, not merely how the heavy progressed aspects in the cycle affect events, but just about what may be expected to happen under each type of aspect which would receive any consideration in practical work.

On the Cycle: March 1, 1922, U. S. Senate, 67 to 22 ratified U. S. Japan Yap (territory) treaty.
